

I Would Have It No Other Way / Kyle Davison

Some days I am up before the light. Only with strong coffee do I truly wake. Every night I stay up late, time creeps ever close to dawn.

My expecting wife and son sleep soundly in the refuge found upon my shoulders.

I would have it no other way.

I work full-time, forty hours a week. My days off are spent climbing the mountain of intellectuality. For a short time each day I see freedom.

Family time provides me with inspiration. This cycle is an education in itself. There are no tests, only opportunities.

Each morning I am given the opportunity to continue. To better tomorrow I sacrifice today.
