

Air Poems

Susan Johanson

Written for my son, the Master of Spoken Word

Saturday drives to Little League
Our family launching words
And rhymes like missiles;
Ear-catching, mind-wrestling
Soul-bearing
Without paper or pen
Fragments of the unconscious
Still live in your
Spoken Word