

Raindrops

Mireille Chazeaux

Like raindrops that fall upon stone,
my love fell on your heart never to penetrate.
Like raindrops on scorched pavement in July my tears fell only to be singed by your contempt.
Like raindrops in a downpour,
my tears fell never to be dried by your gentle touch.
Like raindrops my tears fell.