

Claim to Love

Angelica Hernandez-Villalpando

---

If I ever write about you
Just know that this means one of three things

You either ruined me
Completed me
Or managed to do both

And the people I write about who haunt me the most
Are those who fall under the third

Because at one point you meant the world to me
And then out of nowhere you set my world ablaze

So kudos to you all
It takes someone special to go above and beyond
Someone who doesn't care about hurting those they claim to love