

A Toast to Patient Zero

Skylar Lewis

To your thick glasses and thicker compression socks.
May your towel always be wrapped tightly in heaven.
May the “good stuff” always be flowing.
May your wife always remember your name.

May you always have apple juice, and may everyone call you doctor.
May they remember everything about you that I didn't get to learn.
May they never forget your name.
Salud