Nest

Artist Statement: I went out into the world of nature and created my own nest to understand what it is like. To juxtapose my idea of a bird’s nest for humans, I created a nest out of shredded pictures of manmade buildings and objects. I then placed the small bird’s nest in a tree next to me and sat in my “human” nest. I wanted to address the idea that when we are in our simplest form there is nothing that separates us from that which we avoid. We ourselves are nature and by separating ourselves farther and farther from nature we weaken ourselves.
